Your Highness,

The humble petition of M. Basava Iya, High Court Vakil, Bellary.

I received Dewan's Office D.O. letters Nos.2773 dated 14th September 1911 and 3142 dated 3rd February 1912, which virtually offer a Munsif's place to me, fully knowing that my permanent practice could not permit me to accept the same without a serious sacrifice. The Munsif's place is generally given to raw men learning the rudiments of legal practice.. I have a regular training in the Judicial and legal matters in the High Court of Madras, and am permanently settled in Bellary for 12 years with nothing to complain. While at the same time my classmates who left education in the middle of their course, are fixed in Mysore service in decent places and are now earning 400 to 600 rupees a month, merely on account of official patronage. I was offered by the successive Dewans of Mysore a Munsif's place. I often tried to lay before Your Highness personally all my grievance and the injustice done to me. I consider that my father has done very sincere service in Your Highness' household, and I consider I have a claim on Your Highness' strong sympathy and support. Unfortunately men with official patronage are thrust in better places than fully qualified men who depend on Your Highness' patronage, and the environments further deny me the privilege of personally laying my grievances before Your Highness. Hence I am compelled to prefer a living outside my own country. Your Highness' strong intention to put me in a decent place in Mysore service, both on

on account of my father and for my qualifications is very kind of Your Highness, and I feel highly grateful for the same. The result is however unfortunately the same, for I am asked to take the lowest place in Judicial service and begin my life anew. Further the strong rumours current and published in some local news-papers that I applied for a Munsif's place, is not only incorrect but is detrimental causing serious disadvantage to my practice. In my reply dated 10th February 1911 to the D.O. letters referred to above, I expressed that I was always ready to obey Your Highness' commands however much I had to sacrifice. Regrettably, advantage is taken of this expression and every possible harm is caused to me. I look to Your Highness alone as my patron and sole benefactor, to reddress all my grievance. At present the Deputy Registrar's place in the Chief Court is now permanently vacant, and if Your Highness is pleased to issue orders to appoint me as a start, as the present 1st Councillor has written to the Dewan in October 1911, I will be given an opportunity to show to Your Highness how well I deserve Your Highness' sympathy and support. If this cannot be done, I may have the poor consolation that there is nothing wanting on my part to serve my country, and be content with my practice in spite of all the loss I am put to by the Government correspondence since September 1911, and permit me to bear my best regards to Your Highness and feel ever grateful for Your kind intentions towards me.

I beg to remain,

Your Highness' most obedient servant,

Dated 13th September 1912. M. Basava Iya.
